American taxpayers are quite interested in knowing how banks have used the money that Treasury has invested under the Capital Purchase Program (CPP). To answer that question, Treasury is seeking responses that describe generally how the CPP investment has affected the operation of your business. We understand that once received, the cash associated with TARP funding is indistinguishable from other cash sources, unless the funds were segregated, and therefore it may not be feasible to identify precisely how the CPP investment was deployed or how many CPP dollars were allocated to each use. Nevertheless, we ask you to provide as much information as you can about how you have used the capital Treasury has provided, and how your uses of that capital have changed over time. Treasury will be pairing this survey with a summary of certain balance sheet and other financial data from your institution's regulatory filings, so to the extent you find it helpful to do so, please feel free to refer to your institution's quarterly call reports to illustrate your answers. This is your opportunity to speak to the taxpayers in your own words, which will be posted on our website.

What specific ways did your institution utilize CPP capital? Check all that apply and elaborate as appropriate, especially if the uses have shifted over time. Your responses should reflect actions taken over the past year (or for the portion of the year in which CPP funds were outstanding).

<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Increase lending or reduce lending less than otherwise would have occurred.	While total loans decreased on the balance sheet at December 31, 2009, versus December 31, 2008, loan originations during the year increased by $7.4 million or 4.5%.

<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	Held as non-leveraged increase to total capital	PFC invested $30,000,000 of the $31,762,000 received into its subsidiary, Parkvale Savings Bank, as a capital contribution so that the Bank can continue to meet the credit needs of the communities served. PFC retained $1,762,000 for general corporate purposes.

What actions were you able to avoid because of the capital infusion of CPP funds?

What actions were you able to take that you may not have taken without the capital infusion of CPP funds?

In the spirit of the Capital Purchase Program, Parkvale initiated a "What Can We Do to Keep You in Your Home" program, based upon the FDIC's Loan Modification Program. This program provides assistance to borrowers that have experienced financial hardship and are unable to make mortgage or home equity loan payments on their homes. Based on the specific financial circumstances of borrowers in need of assistance, the Bank may consider temporary interest rate reductions, extending interest only periods, extending loan terms or amortizations, payment capitalization or forbearance and short sales or partial forgiveness of principal. This program is available for loans serviced by Parkvale and Serviced by Others. For the 2009 calendar year, the Bank has modified approximately 169 loans. Management provides monthly reports to the Board of Directors describing the progress of this program.

Please describe any other actions that you were able to undertake with the capital infusion of CPP funds.
